$32,446,253 Governmental Budgets Here

$9,463,428 Increase
In Appropriations of 14 Agencies for '69-'70

By HARRY BARNES

Fourteen major taxing agencies of the Quad-City area have set up operating budgets calling for expenditure of $9,463,428 more during their current fiscal year than they did during their fiscal periods of 1968-69, a survey by the Press-Record revealed today.

Budgets and appropriations of all 14 districts for the current 1969-70 total $32,446,253. Also leaving the commission in appropriations following the expiration of his term is Curtis Blewett.

Rise of 41%.

This net increase is equivalent to 41% of the combined budgets of all 14 agencies for the 1968-69 fiscal year. The study reflects a sharp pickup in the pattern of continuing increasing governmental costs in the Quad-City, with much of the rise in appropriations resulting from salary boosts.

Area growth and expansion dictating a need for expanded public services is the major factor in the increase in appropriations, according to the study.

More than two-thirds of the entire $32 million appropriated this year is for school operations in the Quad-City district. Nine districts in the Quad-City area are planning to increase their 1969-70 budget by more than $1 million, with the highest increase being in the city of Madison.

While the budgets of two school districts still are subject to final approval, the probable revisions would be upward.

Budget Could Rise

The Granite City school district, in fact, is almost certain to revise its final budget to include any additional funds necessary for salary schedules eventually negotiated with striking teachers of Local 743.

Five school districts are planning an election on a proposal to increase the district's educational fund tax rate by 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

On this basis, school operations for the current fiscal year is expected to cost 71% of the taxes paid by Quad-City area taxpayers.

Headed the list of school appropriations and budget increases is that of the Granite City school district, which this year is at an all-time record of $19,347,243, a figure which still can be increased.

Salary, Building Costs

This year's Granite City budget is expected to increase by $7,892,233 over the 1968-69 budget of $11,245,010.

Two major factors in the increase are the skyrocketing cost of one additional salary requirement of more than $14 million already offered by the school board in teacher salary raises and nearly $5 million for new school construction and equipping of the new schools.

A year ago, with no school building work scheduled and teachers still working on a current salary contract, the Granite City school budget of $11,245,010 represented a decrease of $140,921 below that of the 1967-68 year.

In Madison school district 12, the new 1969-70 appropriation is $2,314,464, up $288,695 over last year's budget of $2,025,769, while the new Venice school budget is $1,079,995, an increase of $200,676 over last year's figure of $879,319.

Madison schools have no major building projects pending and most of the increase is due

Hoelscher Is Dropped From Plan Commission

By HARRY BARNES

William F. Hoelscher, chairman of the Granite City Plan Commission for the past six years, was dropped from the commission in appointments announced by Mayor Donald Partney at a city council meeting Tuesday night.

Also leaving the commission following the expiration of his term is Curtis Blewett.

Rejoining the two are Robert D. Graf, 1806 Clark avenue, estimator at the Amco Plumbing & Heating Co., and Robert Kanella, 2579 Pontoon road, manager of computer applications at the Olin Corp., East Architect Henry Gabriel, a member of the commission, was appointed along with Graf and Kanella to three four-year terms expiring April 30, 1973.

The letter to the council was dated Aug. 29, and the appointments were made in the appointments Tuesday.

Hoelscher, who is manager of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, yesterday said the omission of him from the appointment was "strictly a matter of politics."

He said he had learned of the mayor's intention not to reappoint him several weeks ago and had notified other members of the plan commission that they should name a new chairman at that time.

Hoelscher was appointed to the Plan Commission in 1962 and became chairman a year later, succeeding David Mor-

He said that he has been "pleased with serving in this office, and we have done the best we could under the old ordinance."

He also said he was getting city approval of a comprehensive plan.

"We also have had prepared by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission a new zoning ordinance and a new land use and subdivision ordinance. It is my hope that both of these ordinances are adopted as soon as possible."

"I will be glad to offer all available files and records and assistance in any way to whoever is named chairman," Hoelscher said.

He also said he was far from having no effort to name a chairman, and several of the commission members said they believed this was the prerogative of the mayor.

Kathleen Boyd, Godfrey; Cecil Young, South Roxana.

SUSPICIOUS SINKING of pavement on Ball avenue has prompted Street Supt. Warfield to tentatively designate it as the 17th GC sanitary sewer break of 1969. On the cross street, Moro avenue, workmen are shown applying a new sand and road tar surface.

$349,297 Tax Levy Adopted in Madison

Total Up $86,187 Over Last Year; Fire Chief Seeks Halt to Arson

The Madison city council adopted a tax levy totaling $349,297, an increase of $8,187 over that of last year, for the 1969-70 fiscal year at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Principal reason for the increase was authorization by the Illinois General Assembly for municipalities to increase tax rates for fire protection by five cents to 15 cents, police protection by 7.5 cents to 15 cents and garbage collection and disposal, $40,000, by 10 cents to 20 cents per $100 assessment.

The levy for general corporate purposes is $128,672, an increase of $5,297.

Other levies showing increases were those for garbage collection and disposal, $40,000, up $15,463; police protection, $30,000, up $14,000; fire protection, $30,000, up $10,000; and Illinois Retirement Fund, $45,000, up $12,000.

Police Pension Levy Down

Levies remaining the same include library, $15,000; playgrounds and recreation, $16,540; Civil Defense, $16,000; and insurance, $10,000.

The levy for the police pension fund was reduced from $30,000 to $10,000.

The new levy will be extended on the tax records of the county clerk, who will determine the new rates by applying the taxes against the assessed valuation of the city.

The city will help defray the cost of city operations as listed in the city's appropriation budget adopted for the 1969-70 fiscal year beginning last May 1.

Seeks Halt to Arson

In a special report, Fire Chief E. J. Miller said the fire department is working with the police department to apprehend arsonists who have been setting fires in the city.

He referred particularly to a fire which damaged four homes on Third street last Thursday.

Two fires in the past month were undoubtedly set by juveniles.

City Asks State for Route 203 Drainage

Reclamation of 800 Acres for Development Proposed by Engineer

A three-phase drainage and sewer improvement program that would mean reclamation of approximately 800 acres of land for development was approved by the Granite City council Tuesday night.

The program also could entail possible delay by the Illinois highway division in its plans to widen and resurface Route 203 north of Granite City as a result of demands by the city that the state commit itself to have sewer and drainage facilities before proceeding with the work.

As adopted by the council, the plan calls for increasing the capacity of the city's drainage channels that would drain the Doherty Slough area and the entire Metal Goods Plant area.

Construction of new drainage channels that would drain the Doherty Slough area and the entire Metal Goods Plant area is recommended two weeks ago by Street Supt. William Warfield and City Engineer Kenneth Kleberger.

The plan, which would be a half-hour in which a spokesman explains issues in the school opening delay, and a half-hour in which questions from the PTA officials are answered.

The PTA officials are asked to meet with the school board in a week sought to arrange a forum open fully to the public. Agreement could not be reached on a critical point.

Submitted to Local By School District

Negotiating teams of the Granite City school district and Teachers' Local 743 will resume bargaining talks at 7:30 tonight at the school board office.

A written offer was submitted, apparently yesterday, to the union by the board, which suggested tonight's session. A union spokesman said he does not know if the offer is good or not, but he said it is sufficient to warrant resumption of talks.

With public opinion strongly against the dispute that has delayed the start of the fall school term in the Granite City district, efforts are being made to schedule new negotiation sessions.

A settlement is reached by then, children are to report for classes on Tuesday morning, Sept. 9.

Teachers absent from the Aug. 26 presentation were sent individual letters this week notifying them to attend a repeat of the institute session at 9 a.m. Monday, Sept. 8, at Granite City high school.

The latest special school board meeting Tuesday afternoon was adjourned until 1 p.m. Saturday.

The Sept. 9 date for students to report is the third such date, the original starting date was Aug. 27, and that was postponed Sept. 3. Members of Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, failed to report and set up picket lines, and State Board of Education said the school district it must operate fully or not at all.

Letters Being Sent

A written offer was submitted, apparently yesterday, to the union by the board, which suggested tonight's session. A union spokesman said he does not know if the offer is good or not, but he said it is sufficient to warrant resumption of talks.

Whether the board will resort to final steps to implement the notification has not been indicated. Several possible legal actions could be initiated, although courts in this area generally have been unresponsive in enforcing the state laws against strikes by public employees.

Within several weeks the district will begin incurring daily costs of 1/3 of its state tax aid, "fine" of $40,000 to $50,000 a day. There is no precise deadline, but it would be a dead-end if later pupil attendance is limited to a Monday-through-Friday schedule.

Calendar Revision

The board Tuesday afternoon authorized Rep. Bob J. Davis to request revision of the 1969-70 school calendar adopted earlier.

Although parties to the dispute still are in talks, a settlement probably will stem from negotiations rather than some other process, both have agreed to make a separate meeting in a forum with Parent-Teacher Association unit executive board members at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Frohardt school. Talks and answers to questions there will deal with salary and working condition issues.

Last bargaining talks took place Aug. 27. Local 743 said the following day it would not bargain further until receiving a written proposal from the school district, but in a report issued today, it said it is willing to negotiate "around the clock."

$8 Million Potential Savings

Possible alternatives that are receiving increasing attention in discussions by the public include two ways to make more money available for salaries: operation of a quarter system rather than semester system, similar to the SIU-SW quarter operations, or an increase in class size to the national average at a saving of an estimated

Masquers' Show Sunday to Open 10th-Year Observance

Masquers, Inc., will launch a year-long celebration of its 10th anniversary with a variety show Sunday, Sept. 7, at 8 p.m. in the Woodland Park bandshell, Collinsville. Theme for the evening is "Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed, Nothing Blue."

"Something Old" is a resume of musicals the Masquers have presented in the past 10 years. In most cases, numbers will be performed by the people who originally created the role: Mrs. Milli Hoelscher, Granite City, is featured in "Hernando's Hideaway" from "Pajama Game"; Doris Dieu and Jack Leskner in "Honeybun" and "There's Nothing Like a Dame," both from "South Pacific," which raised the money to build the bandshell in Woodland Park; "June is Bustin' Out All Over" and "You'll Never Walk Alone," Irene Kunemann from "Carousel"; and Doris Dieu and the Children's Chorus singing "Gettin' to Know You" from "The King and I."

Wayne and Georgia Bradshaw will recreate their roles as Tommy and Flore with "Almost Like Being in Love" from "Brigadoon"; Gaila Koudella is Adele, the girl who "Can't Say No." She will be joined by the chorus to sing the musical's title song, "Oklahoma."

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Frank Joachimsthaler, Mrs. Beverly Scroggins of Granite City and the puppets will sing "Love Makes the World Go 'Round" from "Carnival," for which both won Masquer Awards as best actor and best actress of the season. "Courtneys" from the "Rouse of Marcus Lycus" will be sung by Ron Fennell, return from last season's hit, "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way to the Forum." Granite City, and Bill Hoelscher, Granite City, will once again convince Stanley Coleman of Granite City how "Lovely" the character is. "The Fantasticks" is represented by Frank Joachimsthaler singing "Try to Remember."

Preview of New Shows

"Something New" introduces the two musicals the Masquers will be presenting this season. "The Sound of Music," which opens the season, is represented by "The Sound of Music," sung by Gail Joachimsthaler. She is then joined by the Von Trapp Children for "Do-Re-Mi." The Mother Abess (Irene Kunemann) and the Nuns' Chorus are featured in "Climb Every Mountain."

A fashionable girls' finishing school on the French Riviera in the 1920s is the setting for "The Boy Friend." Miss Colleen Robertson and Mike DeRuntz, both of Granite City, dream of "A Room in Bloomsbury," while Gail Joachimsthaler explains her philosophy of "Safety in Numbers." The dancing ensembles joins Colleen, Mike and Gail for the title song, "The Boy Friend."

"Something New" might also apply to numbers from shows the Masquers hope to present in the future: Miss Diane Nocheff of Granite City is featured in an original dance from "Baker Street"; and Miss Rora Davis of Granite City becomes Mama Rose to sing "Some People" from "Gypsy." Al Erickson and "friend" are featured in the hit number from "Cabaret"—"If You Could See Her."

Roca Members to Perform

"Something Borrowed" means the talents of the Barbershopers and the Sweet Adelines. It also means the talents of several of the members of the Roca Young Men's club of Granite City, who tell of the routine their mother used to do in vaudeville in "My Mother, The Stripper" and display their dancing and singing abilities in the ensemble of "The Boy Friend." They are Harry Dial, Mike DeRuntz, Dave Roulard and Brad Cross.

Woodland Park is at the junction of Rt. 159 and Belt Line 40. Those who attend are to bring lawn chairs or beach blankets. The program is free, and the show will begin at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Two-Day Ozark Trip Planned Oct. 11-12

The Granite City park district will inaugurate another programming "first" Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11 and 12, with a weekend trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, costing $28 per couple, or $16 for an individual.

The overnight excursion by chartered bus will be limited to 43 passengers, Park Supt. Harold Brown said today. Excursionists will be accommodated at the Osage House, a popular resort overlooking the lake.

Cost of the trip excludes meals, which may be taken in the hotel dining area. It does

Include transportation and lodging, Oct. 12. The journey takes about 3½ hours and rest stops will be made enroute.

The transportation cost, $7 per person, includes a Sunday morning side trip of the Bagwell Dam area of the lake, with the bus departing from the Osage House about 3 p.m. Accommodation charges are $12 for a couple and $8 per single unit, Brown said.

Hospital Auxiliary to Give Play Oct. 24-25

Mrs. Marjorie Norwood, president of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary, presided at a meeting Tuesday evening in the hospital library at which plans were made for a fund-raising project sponsored by the organization.

The Auxiliary will sponsor a show on Oct. 24 and 25 at Granite City high school to be entitled, "Fractured Follies," with the entire cast local talent which has never performed professionally.

A theatrical agent from New York will be hired to bring in a play and costumes for the two-night program and will attend one rehearsal.

Those appointed to serve on committees are Mrs. Norwood, chairman, and Mrs. Mary Kristian, co-chairman; program chairman, Mrs. Helen Bergfield, and co-chairman, Mrs. Margaret Lee; talent chairman, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoelscher; publicity, Mrs. LaVena Meyer; ticket chairman, Mrs. Mary Carey; and patron, Dr. Felicia Koch.

Proceeds from the show will be used to further the projects of the auxiliary in conjunction with hospital needs and recommendations of the nurse. At present, the organization has pledged $150,000 for the building fund and another $55,000 to $58,000 for the new coffee and gift shop.

These undertakings are in addition to annual contributions of $25 for nursing scholarships, $3000 to the indigent fund and $300 for volunteer awards.

A three-month-old boxer pup was poisoned when someone entered the home of Ina McCoy, 2607 Lincoln avenue, and set a plastic dish of rodenticide on the floor, she reported Tuesday. The dog was treated by a veterinarian and recovered.

Investigate Report of Man Slugged, Robbed

Madison county sheriff's deputies are investigating the slugging and robbing of an Indiana man who was abandoned on a rural road near Granite City, they said Tuesday.

He is Roy Manning, 31, Princeton, Ind., who told deputies that his wallet containing $168 and an expensive watch were taken when he was struck on the head with a bottle Aug. 29 by a man who had coaxed him into going home with him.

After he regained consciousness, he made his way to the nearby home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vollmer, where he collapsed on the porch. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a laceration to the back of the head and a hand injury.

He said he had met the man, a woman, and their son and daughter at a bar across the street from the bus station in downtown St. Louis. He was enroute home from the DuQuoin State Fair.

Enough Ink to 'Paint the Town Red,' GC Officials Say

Granite City council members, at several weeks, sounded more weary than financial disaster to city funds Tuesday night, then, in a series of subsequent actions, they spent a total of $24,000, discussed six new street projects, called bids on new street department equipment and gave the city engineer carte blanche for repairing sewer breaks on a cost-plus basis.

At one point during the discussions, Mayor Donald Partney told the council: "You are really going to put the city in the red with all this maneuvering. . . you furnish the red paint and I'll provide the brush."

The council approved a list of claims totaling $108,726. The amount included $100,000 in bills resulting from repair of the growing series of sewer breaks in the North Grand area. The balance was for routine expenditures in various city departments.

Two Payrolls Approved
In addition, council members passed without discussion two separate payrolls—one to meet regular city salary costs for the first half of September. The other covered retroactive pay from May 1 through Aug. 31 for employees granted pay raises earlier this year.

The regular payroll totaled $57,975, including $3034 in overtime payments to street department workers who were working long hours due to the pump-out operations at the sewer breaks.

Payment of retroactive salaries amounted to $47,395, of which $1873 was in adjusted overtime for street department employees.

Claims resulting from sewer break repairs which were approved for payment during the Tuesday session included:

Installation of wells, rental of pumps, well screens, and risers at Nameoki school and Amos street, and Terrace lane and Johnson road, $26,620; Sewer repairs at 3241 Fehling road, $3819; Amos and Johnson, $3735; Faith avenue between Myrtle and Buxton, $16,845; Fehling road, $23,785; Nameoki school parking lot, $14,428; Terrace lane and Johnson road, $2124; 2200 block of Lynch avenue, $2013.

Paid to Seebold Firm
All these claims were payable to A. H. Seebold Co. which has been handling the city's sewer repair work on a cost-plus basis.

The council received notice that a project calling for use of motor fuel tax funds for improvement of Melrose avenue from Pontion road to the north city limits, at a cost of $15,000, and a project for improvement of Buxton avenue from Victory drive to St. Clair avenue at a cost of $10,000, have been approved by the Illinois State Highway Department.

But the council also learned in notices from Robert Kronst, district highway engineer, that two other projects had been approved as to appropriations, locations and width, but held up pending revision for a higher type bituminous surface.

Kronst instructed the council to make the changes in specification.

County Renews Legal Battle in Rail Tax Cases

Madison county is renewing its legal battle to obtain hundreds of thousands of dollars in railroad property taxes lost in Illinois Supreme Court decisions.

Two decisions were against the county in appeals cases involving the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and 11 other railroads.

State's Atty. R. W. Griffith is reopening the cases after it was disclosed in another petition to the Supreme Court that two of the justices had possible conflicts of interest with the CB&Q.

Investigations led to the resignations of Justices Ray I. Klingbiel and Roy J. Solfisburg Jr. over stock deals not related to the railroad case.

A petition of a Chicago attorney is to be brought before the Supreme Court on Sept. 8. He alleges that the clerk of the court had attempted to lose the papers in the files.

The attorney, Sherman Skolnick, is asking that the court create a commission to investigate the railroad tax decisions and to eliminate the decisions. He said he would try to strengthen his petition with an amendment claiming that Illinois Central Railroad executives made political campaign contributions to Klingbiel in 1968.

Madison county's appeals cases were handled by Burton Bernard, former special assistant state's attorney, who prepared volumes of documented reports asserting the railroads were being assessed fairly. He said previously that the court ignored the documentation in ruling that rail assessments had been excessive.

cations and adopt amending resolutions to secure approval of these projects.

They include improvement of Nameoki drive from 25th street to Circle drive, and Warren avenue from Faith drive to St. Clair avenue.

More Street Projects
In discussion of street and alley projects, resolutions setting up two more street projects were adopted.

These called for use of motor fuel tax funds to improve Marshall avenue from St. Clair avenue to Leonard at an estimated cost of $7500, and to improve Palmer avenue from Nameoki road to Garden drive at a cost of $12,000.

Partney remarked that he was at a loss to understand the enthusiasm for developing the road improvement projects.

"We don't have a dime in motor fuel tax funds," he noted. Alderman P. A. Rutledge pointed out that the city still owes the state $150,000 in motor fuel tax rebates for improvement of Nameoki road.

"One of these days, the state is going to want this money. Then where are we going to be?"

In further actions, the council approved a motion to authorize Comptroller Robert Stevens to call for bids to furnish the city with a new road grader and a street sweeper. No estimate of costs was given, but the council said the specifications should be prepared by the street department.

Work Held Up
Authority for the city engineer to proceed with repair of sewer breaks on St. Clair avenue, as well as in other areas where repair work has not yet begun, was granted on a motion by Alderman Gerald Parmley, who proposed that work on the St. Clair avenue break had been held up too long.

Kenneth Kleberger of Research Planning & Design Associates, city consulting engineers, said the last motion adopted by the council called for him to proceed with repairs on Fehling road. Parmley then moved that the St. Clair avenue repairs be undertaken.

At this point, attention was called to a new break at Moro and Ball avenues, and that repair work still is pending at several other locations.

At the request of several aldermen, Parmley included in his motion that the city engineer proceed with work on all the breaks on a cost-plus basis.

As a result, bids for repair work on sewers in the Sara street-Lynch avenue area were called by advertisement today, to be opened at 10:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 15 in the city hall, and for Lynch avenue work at 10 a.m. that day.

Tired of Criticism
At one point, the council discussed the possibility of calling all street department employees off the pumping jobs at the sewer breaks after Street Supt. William Warfield told the council, "I'm tired of being criticized for developing the city."

Warfield said he has a total complement of about 25 men on the street department payroll and that 13 of them have been assigned for the past several months to pumping operations at sewer faults.

Within the past few weeks, he said, two men have been on vacation and another is in the hospital.

"This leaves me about nine men to handle all of the work of the street department, and we can't fill holes in alleys, repair streets and lay sidewalks unless I have some men," he said.

Alderman Green noted that "if the street department is in a jam, I move that we bring these men back into the street department and we hire work."

The motion brought a storm of protest from other aldermen, who pointed out that union regulations would require two men on every pump and around the clock shifts would cost the city an "exorbitant" amount of money.

Motion Amended
Green then amended the motion, providing that the city hire "temporary employees" to replace street department workers at the pumps.

Mayor Partney told the council, "You're really running the city in the red. The operating engineers would come into the picture and demand we pay a wage differential for temporary employees." Green withdrew his motion.

Rutledge said he believed the street department was doing right in using its employees to man the pumps and save the city considerable money by so doing.

"I haven't heard any criticism of the street department, and I think Warfield is doing this right," Rutledge said. "We don't have any money for this type of thing."

Alderman N. N. N. protested, however, that "the alleys are gone, we haven't laid any walks in I don't know how long, and it's been a long time since we put down any curb and gutters. You just don't have the money."

To Obtain Estimates
The council's City Hall committee, headed by Alderman Roy Poulos was authorized to obtain estimates for painting and tuckpointing windows in the city hall building after Alderman Dawes told the council he had thoroughly inspected the building and that "the windows are ready to fall out. All it will take is a good stiff wind."

Dawes pointed out the building's "electrical system is real bad," and that unless something is done soon, repair costs will "really go up."

Still another problem involving a potential cost of $12,000 was referred to the pollution committee for a later report.

It arose as the result of a letter from the Granite City Army Depot pointing out that the electrical primary system which furnishes power to the Granite City pumping station on the riverfront is "now out of service requiring repairs and replacements which should be made" before the river rises again to a 22-foot stage.

The letter included a copy of an assessment granted the city for the power line and a reference to a 1951 contract under which maintenance of the line was provided.

Alderman Moerlein said the contract provided that the electrical line be maintained at no cost to the United States, which means it is up to the city to repair it.

Annual Boat Races Set For Sunday, Sept. 14

The eighth annual boat races co-sponsored by the Granite City Kiwanis club and the Bow-Line Boat club will take place on the Mississippi River, near the Hartford canal, on Sunday, Sept. 14, according to an announcement this week by the chairman, William Seebold.

There will be 12 classes for runabout and hydroplane boats to attract racing enthusiasts from all over the U.S.

At the present time, there are about 75 entries. More are expected prior to the opening day. Nearly 2000 spectators gathered on the riverbank to view the races in past years.

Slows to Turn, Struck

Slowing to turn right into a parking lot, an auto driven by Tommy Wells, 3012 Dale avenue, was struck in the right side by a car driven by Charles S. Venarsky, 4052 Buene avenue, who was unable to stop in time at 12:25 p.m. Tuesday at Johnson road and Washburn avenue.

The totals by months for this year, listing the number of accidents, persons injured and the number killed, in that order, follows:

1969 Auto Fatality Toll Double Rate of 1968

A total of 194 traffic accidents occurred on Quad-City area streets and highways during August, an increase of 23 over the same month a year ago but a decrease of 28 from the July 1968 total.

Ninety-two persons were injured and six were killed, compared to 119 hurt and one killed a year ago and 126 and nine in July.

So far during the year, there have been 1756 accidents, up 431 over last year, with 903 injuries, up 20, and 24 fatalities, up 11. The six traffic fatalities in August made it the second deadliest month for motorists. There were nine fatalities in July, three in June, four in January and one each in February and March.

Driving Charges Filed
Careless driving charges were filed at 5 p.m. Tuesday at 3700 Nameoki road against Clint J. Potter Jr., 2221 Miracle avenue, and Brad L. Harris, 2313 Edison avenue.

Demos Launching Early Drive for Assembly Posts

Walter T. Simmons, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, joined other Illinois Democratic leaders today in an early bid for a Democratic victory in 1970 legislative races as the only assurance of tax reform in Illinois.

The 1970 primary election will be held in March under a new state law, prompting an early beginning of election campaigns. Filing dates for candidates are expected to be advanced into September.

Simmons said Democrats next year will concentrate on legislative posts and that an early drive in Madison county is planned.

Every seat in the Illinois Senate and House is up for election in November, 1970. Republicans control both chambers now.

Simmons said, "Governor Ogilvie and his Republicans made the biggest tax hike in the history of Illinois. He had a chance to bring some reform to the system and didn't even try. All he did was impose new taxes and increase existing ones. The statement followed the Labor Day message of State 9%."

Illinois CD Councils To Meet Sept. 13-14

Gilbert J. Leonard, Terre Haute, Ind., president-elect of the United States Civil Defense Council, and William E. Crockett of the Office of Civil Defense, Washington, D. C., will headline a group of distinguished speakers addressing a joint session of the Illinois Women's and Directors Civil Defense Councils, it was announced this week.

The two CD councils will convene for their annual meetings Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13-14, at Augustus' restaurant, Belleville.

Democratic Chairman James A. Roman, who reminded citizens that "the Kennedy-Kerner Commission pulled Illinois and the nation out of a recession."

Roman warned of danger signs and said tax reform and a rollback of interest rates are imperative "if we are to preserve our economic gains."

"Not only did the Republican governor and his legislature sock it to the people of Illinois with this heavy tax load," Simmons said, "but they raised the maximum interest rate in Illinois to 8%." If it wasn't for concerned Democratic opposition, they would have raised it to 9%.

Separate workshops, business sessions and election of new officers will be conducted by council members who represent civil defense organizations and affiliated municipal and state agencies in all sections of Illinois. Two luncheons and a banquet, held jointly by the two groups, may also highlight the two-day conference.

State council members from this area include Victor H. Koenig, Granite City civil defense director, Theodore Todoroff of Granite City, Madison county CD director, and Mrs. Valerie Evenden, local CD coordinator for administration and information.

The USDC president-elect and the federal civil defense official will speak at a 7 p.m. banquet Sept. 13. Other speakers to be heard during the two-day program include Richard Rasmussen, director of the Federal Staff College, Battle Creek, Mich.; Col. Donovan M. Vance, Illinois Civil Defense Agency director; and Warren P. Cleary, Region IV director, OGD Battle Creek.

Workshop topics will deal with "Mass Feeding," "Career Development for Civil Defense Directors," "Industrial Preparedness" and a two-part session involving "Increased Readiness." St. Clair county CD officials are in charge of arrangements for the annual state conference.

$804,506 Tax Levy Voted for Venice Schools

A tax levy totaling $804,506, up $45,121 over last year, was approved Tuesday night by the Venice board of education, which based the levy on a $1,579,893 budget, up $280,670 over 1968-69. The budget was adopted at Tuesday's special meeting without change from previously published figures.

Bulk of the increase is in the school district's education fund, which provides for anticipated salary raises.

To offset the higher budget figure, approval of a 40-cent tax referendum may be sought by Venice school officials later this year. A date for the referendum has not yet been set by the board.

The 1969-70 tax levy shows $887,563 in the education fund, a $380 decrease from last year. All other fund levies are the same or higher and a new levy of $17,814 for fire protection and safety purposes has been added this year.

A breakdown of the new tax levy, showing the 1968-69 figures in parentheses follows:

Transportation, $21,377 ($18,634); education, $587,863 ($588,453); building, $133,605 ($118,592); Illinois Municipal Retirement, $23,158 ($16,940); working cash, $10,000, same; junior college, $3362 ($3388); fire prevention safety, $17,814, none; and special education, $1725 ($3388).

Retirement of bonds amounts to $50,077, down $1765 from last year.

The new budget sets up anticipated expenditures of $1,340,633 in the education fund, up $231,564 over the $1,099,068 appropriation last year.

For building fund purposes, $1,322,632 in all funds, with $1,049,138 of the anticipated increase of $76,512 over the previous $142,793.

For municipal retirement payments, the figure is $22,927, or $9208 higher than the $13,719 last year.

Anticipated cost of transportation is $47,052, down $14,906 from last year's $61,958, while a decrease in bond payments

Skies were mostly sunny during the other days of the month. The hottest day was Aug. 25, with a temperature of 94, and the coolest was Aug. 22 at 56 degrees, according to the weather bureau. The average was 77 degrees, or .2 of a degree above normal.

Week Left in MHS, GCHS Countdowns For Grid Campaign

Untroubled by the school closing complications encountered by Granite City athletes, Madison high school griders are proceeding with gradually intensified drills in preparation for their opening game at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 12.

MHS will host O'Fallon Sept. 12 and also be at home to the varsity of St. Louis at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18.

Last year, O'Fallon shut out the Trojans 27-0 while Rosary blanked MHS 25-0.

Madison has begun scrimmaging after thorough physical training. The offense gained three yards on the ground to every yard gained by passing last year, and once again there is strong emphasis on running plays. Coach Al Vonder Haar plans to stress the aerial attack in next week's practices.

GCHS has managed to hold practice sessions, but these have been less than satisfying due to the limited coaching staff. However, if the school closing dispute is settled in time, the regular schedule may be played.

The schedule calls for the Warriors to visit Belleville Althoff at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 13, for their initial contest.

Playoffs Will Begin

Inter-City Baseball League playoffs will pit Mercer (12-8) against Pocahontas (11-9) at Wilson Park and East Alton (10-9) against champion Collinsville (12-7) at Collinsville's Fletcher field at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

When the acquired Metal Goods plant is added to the Steelabrader operation, the two Steelabrader plants will operate independently of each other. There are no immediate plans to change the present number of 40 employees and supervisors.

Broadened Services

Service to all present customers will be maintained and plans are in development to obtain new customers, with emphasis on broadened services.

James also reported that the management and marketing teams of Steelabrader will steadily be increased to meet its continued growth program.

Fox Industries is involved in several diversified operations, including manufacture of powdered metals, warehousing of bulk commodities, a bulk commodity custom drying service and the 50-acre Fox Industrial Park. It operates the Ironite Co., a wholly owned subsidiary.

Council Approves New Tax Levy On Third Try

After two weeks of haggling over contents of the new 1969-70 Granite City tax levy, city council members completely reversed their tactics Tuesday night and passed the measure without a single word of discussion. The levy was adopted by a 9 to 6 vote.

The tax levy, which must be filed with the county clerk not later than next Tuesday, calls for a total of $3,308,720, an all-time high.

The levy total is an increase of $1,044,631 over the 1968-69 total of $2,264,089.

Under statutory tax limits, however, actual tax extensions will produce only about one-third of the total amount levied. The rest of the money to meet the city's budgeted expense of $2,745,143 for the current fiscal year, must come from other sources.

Passage of the tax levy bill Tuesday night, in a regular meeting delayed one day by the Labor Day holiday, came after two weeks of debate between council members who challenged the levy as being too high. Adoption of the measure was defeated by roll call votes in previous council sessions on Aug. 18 and Aug. 25.

No further effort was made Tuesday night to obtain passage of special tax rate ordinances which, if passed, would have increased next year's city tax levy by a total of 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Bubblemasters Earn Top Awards at Annual Dive

About 40 divers from the Bubblemasters Scuba Club of Granite City took part in the annual Labor Day weekend dive of the Midwest Scuba Diving Council held at Pontiac Boat Dock, Bull Shoals Lake, Mo., this week.

Keen competition in several spearfishing contests attracted qualified divers from many Illinois and Missouri diving groups.

Richard Wilson of the Bubblemasters captured second place in the council's spearfishing event with a seven-pound carp, followed by Jack Atkinson, also of the local club, in third place with a six-pound, ten-ounce carp.

In earlier contests, restricted to Bubblemaster members, Atkinson, diving instructor for the Granite City-based club, won a traveling trophy by spearing a 16½-pound catfish and Edward Duffin earned the grand prize.

Annual inter-club competition between Bubblemaster and All-American members was won by Wilson's carp entry. The victory requires the losing team to host a fish fry this fall.

Dr. Chris Geroff of the Bubblemasters was named the "wildest fish story-teller" after he reported that a 15-pound drum fish managed to elude capture during the contest.

Council Vote Removes 5 Crossing Guards

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Thurs., Sept. 4, 1969

Efforts by some members of the Granite City council to keep five newly appointed school crossing guards on their jobs despite their failure to pass physical examinations failed at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

By a roll call vote of 8-7, the council defeated a motion by Alderman Claude Green to separate the five crossing guards from the city's overall "pool" insurance program and provide them with a type of insurance provided by the city itself.

Green advanced the motion as a solution to a threat from the city's insurers that the entire city insurance program could be cancelled if the five guards in question were retained as insured employees.

That threat opened a lengthy argument, a resumption of debate held a week ago that ended with the five guards temporarily retained on the guard list.

Green spearheaded the effort to keep the five crossing guards on their jobs in the face of letters from The Aetna Casualty & Surety Co., and the Bond Men, Inc., of St. Louis which handles the city's insurance, presented to the council as communications, Tuesday night.

Violates Agreement
Darrell R. Weible of Bond Men told the council that "one of the conditions of writing workmen's compensation insurance through Aetna was that pre-employment physicals be given."

"It does no good at all to have pre-employment physicals if the person is to be paid to work even if he fails the examination. It also violates our agreement with the city."

"Secondly," Weible added, "as a citizen of Granite City, I am personally appalled that these men would even be considered for these positions with their poor eyesight and poor health."

Weible pointed out that a crossing guard was killed three years ago in an accident attributed to poor eyesight and that another guard was severely injured in an accident under similar circumstances.

He told the council to exclude such men from the city insurance program "or we will have to consider termination of the entire contract."

Weible enclosed with his letter one from H. J. Deeken, superintendent of the Commercial Casualty Division of Aetna Casualty & Surety, which notified Weible that Aetna had "serious doubts about retaining coverage (for the city) unless conditions are met."

Two Courses Open
Mayor Donald Partney told the council that in view of this position by the insurance firm, the city had two courses open:

One, to have its insurance program cancelled, and the other to separate the guards from the insurance program with insurance provided by the city.

This would mean, the mayor told the aldermen, that the city would be liable for $25,000 for every case of liability that might develop involving one of the guards.

The employment of the five guards, who were among 16 appointed to crossing locations by Mayor Partney three weeks ago, was questioned a week ago when it was reported five of the group had failed to pass physical exams, two of them because of bad eyesight and three because of heart conditions.

At that time, the council stood firm in a determination not to remove the guards from their jobs.

In view of the insurance firms' attitude, however, some aldermen reversed their stand Tuesday night and agreed the city could not afford to insure the guards.

Green opposed "kicking these people off their jobs. We knew they are not in the best of health when we hired them."

Lists Medical Reports
Partney presented individual examination reports on all 16 of the guard appointees, showing in some instances that the guard appointees had eyesight of 20-70. Insurance companies will accept no reading above 20-40, Partney said.

Green replied that if all the city employees were required to take examinations, "we wouldn't have enough people to keep the city operating."

Green moved that the city separate the five guards from the insurance program and that the city provide insurance for them. After the vote defeating the motion, one alderman asked, "What does that mean?"

"That means," Mayor Partney answered, "that they don't go on the job."

Voting "no" to defeat Green's motion were Aldermen Rutledge, Whitmer, Dallas, Moerjen, Peulos, Dawes, Jarrett and

Baker. Voting "yes" were Robertson, Boyd, Farmlley, Morien,

Nonn, Green and Schuler.

department official suggested they contact the appropriate agency in their own state.

Returns in Both States
Those living in one state and working in another will be required to file returns in both states.

An additional problem facing Illinois residents working in Missouri is that the Illinois law cannot require employers in Missouri who do not conduct business in Illinois to withhold the Illinois tax.

The Illinois law did not provide for reciprocal agreements with other states in the collection of the tax, as legislators feared it would make the entire law unconstitutional. An attempt may be made to add reciprocal agreements next year.

Income Taxes Paid Other States Can be Deducted

Illinois residents employed in neighboring states with an income tax will be permitted to deduct such payments from their new Illinois income tax. The State Revenue Department, however, points out that when an Illinois resident pays another state income tax at a rate higher than the 2½% assessed here, he cannot collect the entire difference from his Illinois return.

He will be credited with payment of up to the 2½%, which he would have had to pay here.

Procedures Being Devised
Definite procedures have yet to be detailed for Illinoisans working in other states, but a department official warns:

"For those who work in an adjoining state and pay income taxes by deduction from their pay checks, it is essential that they keep an accurate record of such deductions."

Corporations which are assessed at 4% in Illinois will be allowed similar deductions for payments in other states.

Missouri has a graduated income tax of 1%.

For residents of other states working in Illinois and having tax deductions made here, the

McKendree Student Orientation Friday

Orientation for new students will begin Friday, Sept. 5, at McKendree College, continuing through registration Tuesday, and concluding with an all-campus dance that evening. Classes begin the following day. The schedule of activities includes dinner and tours by new students and parents, as well as introduction of faculty and staff; various entry examinations; familiarization with dormitory procedures, student meetings and a president's reception. About 30 returning students will be guides and will counsel new enrollees on various aspects of student life. Both freshmen and transfer students will participate.

The agenda for Friday calls for assignment of students to residence halls, tours from 1 to 4:30 p.m., and dinner in Ames Hall at 6 p.m., after which faculty and staff will be introduced. Eric N. Rockham, president, will give the welcome address, with Dean of Students Larry Schmalenberger, presiding.

Saturday will be devoted to tests, a cook-out and recreation activities in the afternoon, residence hall meetings at 7 p.m. and a welcome dance at 8 p.m. in Deneen Center. Counseling groups are slated Sunday at 1 p.m., including assignment of faculty advisors; the president's reception later in the afternoon and a movie at 8 p.m. Monday calls for further exams, a meeting of all new students and a social hour later in the evening in Deneen upper lounge.

Good, Evil in Campus Unrest, Students Told

Some forms of campus unrest should be stirred up and supported, Erwin D. Canham, editor-in-chief of The Christian Science Monitor, told a large gathering of college students, including a Granite Cityan, Friday at Boston.

He explained: "The exposure of evil and the application of regenerative measures are forms of unrest which we should certainly support. Unrest against injustice, unrest against outdated and wrong forms of organization and control, unrest against hypocrisy, unrest against gross materialism."

Over 6000 Christian Science students from colleges and universities in 31 countries were in Boston for three days to consider their responsibilities and mission on the campus and in the world. Theme of the meeting, which extended through Saturday, Aug. 30, is "Building in a Revolutionary Period."

In attendance from Granite City was Richard Grotenfend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Grotenfend, 2039 Pontoon road. He is a sophomore at the University of Illinois, majoring in forestry.

Summer With Timber Crew He arrived in Boston prior to the meeting from Springfield, Ariz., where he worked this summer with the Timber Crew for the Forest Service in the Apache National Forest.

Canham cautioned the students that nihilism, or destruction for its own sake, is tragically misguided.

Law-breaking, he also warned, has no basis, except on rare occasions when one is preparing for court action to test a law's validity.

Christian Science, by its very nature, Canham told the students, is committed to the mission of radical healing of individual and social ills.

He quoted Mary Baker Eddy, who discovered and founded Christian Science: "One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'; annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry, whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished, or destroyed."

Note well, Canham emphasized, that "it is God who does this liberating and revolutionizing."

Ministry Work Here By College Graduate

Miss Suzanne Worden, 135 Abbeville road, Pittsburgh, Pa., is among 27 young men and women who are scheduled to begin two years of special-term United Methodist home mission service in the United States and the Virgin Islands this fall.

Miss Worden will serve in the field of urban ministry with the Venice and Madison United Methodist Churches.

The U.S.-2s will serve in a variety of projects and programs, including community centers, ghetto area and inner-city churches, children's homes, mission schools, rural church-and-community work, mission hospitals, and assignments to projects serving minority groups.

Among the vocational skills represented are social work, teaching, nursing, leadership development, group leadership, child care and development, and Christian education.

Fitting Motto for the U.S.S. Connable— 'Examples of Our Countrymen Endure'

BY VALERIE EVENEDEN

Flags rippled in the breeze, U.S. Navy bandmen played stirring sea tunes and the "split and polish" appearance of a U.S. Marine Corps honor guard combined to create a festive but dignified atmosphere at the Charleston Naval Base, S.C., for the commissioning of the U.S.S. Connable, Quail-class, which returned here this week from the Aug. 30 ceremony related.

A distinguished company of high-ranking naval officers was among the gathering of several hundred persons attending the commissioning ceremony, witnessed by nearly 40 local residents.

The vessel, one of a new class of 47 ocean escorts specially designed for locating and destroying enemy submarines, was named in honor of the late Navy Commander David Rickard Connable of Madison.

Mrs. Mary Rickard Connable, 1538 Third street, Madison, the late commander's mother, christened the ship at the U.S.S. Connable on July 20, 1968, when the 4100-ton vessel was launched at the Avondale Shipyards, Westwego, La.

Cmdr. Connable was born in Madison on Sept. 8, 1912. His naval career ended when the submarine U.S.S. Trigger, which he was commanding, failed to return from a war patrol in the vicinity of Nansei Shoto, Asiatic area, on April 21, 1945. The submarine was presumed lost with all hands.

Annapolis Graduate

Upon graduation from Madison high school, he received an appointment to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., in 1932. Graduating in June 1936, he was commissioned as an ensign.

Cmdr. Connable served on cruisers until 1939, when he was assigned for six months to the Submarine Base, New London, Conn., for instruction in the undersea craft. From December 1939 to August 1943, he served with the submarine U.S.S. Pompano.

The Pompano participated in Naval actions during the early part of the war in the Pacific, including the battle of Midway. When detached from the Pompano in August 1943, he was given command of the U.S.S. Cuttlefish.

He next reported to the Submarine Force, Pacific Fleet, in December 1944. After one war patrol in the U.S.S. Sennet, he assumed command of the Trigger in February 1945.

Cmdr. Connable was awarded the Silver Star medal, Bronze Star medal and Presidential Unit citation which the Trigger earned for three war patrols. The Trigger's final assignment had been scheduled as the Navy officer's last voyage aboard the submarine.

Rev. Richardson Will Sing With National Choir

Rev. David T. Richardson, interim pastor of Third Baptist Church, has been selected to sing with the "100 Men's Voice Choir," composed of men from the Southern Baptist Convention, which includes all 50 states.

Selected from an original field of 1800 men were 800 who auditioned. The final 100 were chosen for the choir. They are to perform in New York City in the spring, and in Japan next fall. The choir will also do recording work, and make additional appearances which will be announced at a later date. Three of the 100 are from Illinois.

Rev. Richardson, who resides with his wife, Earline, and children, Beth Ann, Terri and Tim, at 3225 Willow avenue, spent a week in Fort Worth, Tex., rehearsing with the other choir members. He traveled there by plane, accompanied by a fellow choir member from Cambridge, returning home during the holiday weekend.

Richardson received a bachelor of music degree with a minor in voice, from SIU, Carbondale, and a master in music degree, with voice major, from Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. While at SIU, he was director of the "Singing Squadron," a group composed of ROTC members. He also served as director of the "Chapel Singers," another SIU group.

Current activities include directorship of the Baptist Student Union at SIU-SW, associational music director of the Madison County Baptist Association, and a music position with the state Baptist Association.

Plans are presently under way for the County Association's "Good News Youth Choir," which Rev. Richardson directed, to present its first concert of the year, on Sunday, Sept. 7, at 3 p.m. at the Third Baptist Church, 26th street and Grand avenue. The public is being in-

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 18 Thurs., Sept. 4, 1969

The Aug. 30 commissioning ceremony marked the initiation of the U.S.S. Connable into active service in the operating forces of the Navy.

At the moment of the breaking of her commission pennant, the vessel became the responsibility of her commanding officer who, together with the crew of the ship's company, has the duty of making and keeping the vessel constantly ready for any service required by the country in peace or war.

As described by the Navy, "Until the commissioning, the Connable was merely hull and machinery. From Saturday forward, she will be imbued with a personality and soul, reflecting the will and spirit of all those who will serve with her during her career."

The Connable's first spark of personality is reflected in the ship's brilliant green, white and gold insignia.

Irish Family Shield

The shield bears the rampant lion, denoting Cmdr. Connable's lineage as a descendant of the Irish O'Connell Family.

Flanking seashells on the insignia are heraldic devices representing significant naval achievement. In the case of the Connable's shield, they signify the Silver and Bronze Stars earned by the late commander.

The insignia contains a motto, also of old Irish derivation, "Exempla Sursum Durant." This translates as "The examples of our countrymen endure." The battle cry of the U.S.S. Connable is "Durant."

Ships of the Connable's type have many traits of the swift and deadly destroyer.

The newest and longest range underwater sound detection equipment (Sonar) in the Navy today will enable the Connable to operate independently in locating and tracking hostile submarine forces or to be an extremely effective team member of a submarine hunter-killer force or anti-submarine protection force for a Navy task force or merchant vessel.

Patrol Search

Like the destroyer, the 438-foot-long Connable will be able to handle such diverse missions as rescue, patrol, evacuation, blockade and visit-and-search.

Her five-inch, 54-caliber gun is an effective shore bombardment weapon used in support of military operations several miles inland.

The ship's principal armament is an anti-submarine homing torpedo which can be delivered to a water-entry point miles distant by the Anti-Submarine Rocket (ASROC) or launched from conventional above-water torpedo tubes.

In the near future, a manned helicopter capability and Independent Variable Depth Sonar (IVDS) will be added.

Manned by 15 officers and 206 enlisted men, the Connable has the speed (in excess of 27 knots) and mobility to meet the requirements placed upon a versatile ship of the line. When she joins the Cruise Destroyer Force U.S. Atlantic Fleet, the Connable will be homeported in Norfolk, Va., with Destroyer Squadron 26.

Assuming command of the U.S.S. Connable on Aug. 30 was Commander Robert Bruce Robinson II, a native of Magnolia, Ark., who was reared in Pennsylvania. Commissioned a Navy ensign in 1951, he was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat Distinguishing Device for meritorious achievement during combat operations.

Cmdr. Robinson holds the Vietnam Service Medal with three Bronze Stars and numerous other awards. He previously served aboard the U.S.S. Canberra.

Distinguished guests at the commissioning ceremony were introduced by Navy Capt. Charles N. Payne, commander of the Charleston Naval Shipyard.

Admiral Sharp Speaks

Remarks were given by Rear Admiral H. J. Kossler, commandant, Sixth Naval District, who introduced Admiral U. S. Grant Sharp, (Ret.), the principal speaker.

The Navy Department orders to commission the U.S.S. Connable were read by Admiral Kossler, followed by hoisting of the National Ensign, the Union Jack and the Commission Pennant, as the U.S. Navy band from the Sixth Naval District played the national anthem.

Lt. Cmdr. Grant A. Sharp, the Connable's first executive officer, set the first watch after command of the ship was assumed by Cmdr. Robinson, who also addressed the gathering.

Mrs. Connable presented a painting to the ship's company, the work of Miss Marguerite Barker of Granite City.

Following the ceremonies, the vessel was open for general visiting and a reception was held in the commissioned officers' mess at the Naval Base. Those attending from the local area were guests at the Charleston-Fort Sumter, where a dinner was given later the same day.

Among those witnessing the ceremonies from here were Cmdr. Connable's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Connable; Madison Mayor Stephen M. Aeras and Mrs. Mamas; and City Commissioner and Mrs. Robert W. Stevens of Granite City.

Pontoon Teen Town to Plan Project Tonight

Members of the Pontoon Beach Teen Town will meet at 7 p.m. today in the home of the club president, Miss Pam Watson, 5 Jones Park, to discuss projects and events to be sponsored by the group within the next several weeks.

Teen Town members and representatives of the Waves Auxiliary of the Pontoon Beach volunteer police department have agreed to work together for a two-month trial period, during which adult club members will serve as advisors and chaperones to the teenage group.

According to the Teen Town president, 400 membership cards have been distributed to teenagers in the Quad-City area. Approximately half that number are active in projects and promotions of the club, she said.

An overnight campout at Carlyle Lake during the Labor Day weekend was attended by 26 young people, accompanied by seven adult chaperones.

Funeral in South for John H. Dandridge Jr.

Funeral services are to be held in Sardinia, Miss., for John Henry Dandridge Jr., 41, of 115 Bodder street, who died Sept. 1 in the St. Louis Jewish Hospital.

Hit-and-Run Accident

$10,689 Contract for Kirkpatrick Painting

Exterior painting of the original 151 Kirkpatrick Homes apartments and the administration and maintenance building will be carried out by Gus Handge & Son, St. Louis, on a $10,689 low bid.

Other bids opened by the Granite City Housing Authority Tuesday night were $16,888 by Arthur Roseman, Granite City, $12,715 by Clark Painting, Bridgeton, Mo., and $33,340 by Ward Painting Co., St. Louis.

It was decided to proceed with a feasibility study on rehabilitation of older apartments. Tentative plans call for the work to start next spring if finances permit.

Some commissioners plan to attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Association of Re-development Authorities Sept. 18-19 at Springfield. David Morgan, GCHA executive director, will be chairman of the Springfield conference.

Commissioners present were Chairman Ernest E. Veil Jr., Vice-Chairman James Cox, Walter Pfaff, Earl Thompson and Frank Fuzessery.

Invited to attend this free musical, "Tell It Like It Is," the choir numbers approximately 75 young persons from all over Madison County. Mrs. Marge Ellsworth of Grace Baptist Church is the accompanist.

YMCA Pre-Kindergarten Center Opens Sept. 16

The Tri-City Area YMCA in Granite City will reopen its pre-kindergarten center on Tuesday, Sept. 16, it was announced today by Charles Hasse, youth director.

The 18-session fall program will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m., beginning Sept. 16 and continuing through Nov. 13.

Registration of youngsters, who must be three years old during the quarter they are enrolled, currently are being accepted for the fall session at the "Y" youth office, or by calling 876-7200, Hasse said. Fee for the program is $40 for the 18 sessions, or $51 on a payment plan.

The YMCA official also announced that Mrs. Pat Takmanian again will serve as class instructor, assisted by Mrs. Mary Herman, Youth Department staff member. The class will be limited to a maximum of 15 children.

The program is a fun-learning experience geared to pre-school children's interest and developed to broaden their knowledge about the things they see and hear each day. The pre-school program is a preparation for the adjustments that youngsters must make when they enter kindergarten, Hasse explained.

Further details may be obtained from Hasse at the YMCA.

The motorcycle-riding Shriners performed maneuvers along the parade route and were warmly received.

It was the fourth year for the Shriners to perform in the annual event. Lloyd Lewis and Joe Timmons led the two Compacts squads in their routines and patterns.

Hoffek Switching Enrollment Shows Dip From Army Life In Madison Schools To University

Specialist-five Lawrence J. Hoffek has arrived in the U.S. after two years of service in Germany with the 8th Cavalry, and has been honored at a "welcome home" party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hoffek, 2500 Lynch avenue.

The soldier received his discharge at Fort Dix, N. J. He left this week for Charleston, Ill., where he will continue his education at Eastern Illinois University.

Before leaving Germany, Hoffek was awarded the Army Commendation Medal in outdoor ceremonies at 8th Cavalry headquarters. The citation accompanying the medal commended the serviceman for outstanding and meritorious service with the unit from May 1967 to August 1968.

The award cited him for individual effort demonstrated in preparation for the unit's general and command inspections, while acting in the capacity of supply sergeant shortly after his arrival in Germany. His actions materially contributed to the unit receiving a 100% evaluation, the citation related.

Guests at the dinner party included Mr. and Mrs. Steve Saltsch and daughter, Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tritschuh and children, Jackie and Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Saltsch and daughter, Lorie, and Mr. and Mrs. John Groboski.

The serviceman and his parents were houseguests of the Hoffeks' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffek of Ladd, Ill.

A graduate of Granite City high school, Spec-five Hoffek studied in his freshman year at Southern Illinois University prior to joining the Army.

Enrollment at Louis Baer was up about 12, while the others remained the same.

The sixth day attendance totaled 2751 students, including 363 at Blair school, 526 at Dunbar school, 533 at Harris school, 399 at Louis Baer school, 240 at the junior high school and 680 at the senior high school.

ordinator, and Mrs. Louise Serfas, hostess. An organizational meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday.

Classes Provided for State Hospital Youths

Fourteen youth program residents of Alton State Hospital are attending classes throughout the Alton school system this year. They represent children from the following hospital units: Madison county, St. Clair, Monroe counties, and eastern counties, divisions within Mental Health Zone VII, serviced by Alton State. The children are able to function well in public school situations, but remain at the hospital for supportive psychiatric treatment. They are emotionally maladjusted due to various family situations. Supportive treatment programs at the hospital deal with various rehabilitation therapy

WELCOME BACK TRI-HI-Y CLUB HAVE AN ENJOYABLE PROSPERITY

Members again will have the option of purchasing a $5 club membership or a $15 yearly Teen Team membership.

All girls interested in joining or starting a Tri-Hi-Y club are invited to a meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Marty Herman, club coordinator, will help girls to become involved in a club.

Boys are being invited to join a Hi-Y club, Mike Rapoff, and Dave Williams will be on hand to help establish the club.

Each unit has two special education teachers to coordinate the educational program, because patients who cannot attend classroom sessions in the community are given individual instructions daily, and school is emphasized in each unit's youth program.

Special education services are offered at all eight Illinois mental health zones, and the services are tailored to assist the mental health needs of each individual. The services are designed to establish a continuum of services that extend into the community's public schools.

Specialized educational approaches by the Department of Mental Health facilities are not regarded as a substitute for common school education or for special education programs available elsewhere in the community, but are related to the patient's total needs and to his return to the community.

The philosophy is focused on prevention, early return, and community intervention to strengthen services concerned with problems of mental illness and mental retardation.

The six teachers at Alton State have a cooperative work relationship with the schools in the Alton district. They, and the units to which they have been assigned are: Mrs. Eddy Smith and Mrs. Barbara Bruen, St. Clair-Monroe unit; Mrs. Diane Meyer and Mike Kelsey, eastern unit; and Mrs. Sharon Hausmann and Kathy Nobbe, Madison county unit.

6 Area Students Volunteer to be Guides at U.I.

Six Quad-City students are among more than 400 University of Illinois undergraduates who have volunteered to serve as "Illini Guides" this fall to help freshmen become acquainted with college life on the Urbana-Champaign campus.

The guides are: Barb Jackson, 2800 Oaklawn drive; Chuck McMillan, 3280 Wabash avenue; Paul Sackett, 4105 Stearns avenue; Terry Waller, 402 Vesel avenue; Douglas E. Winter, 19 Miami court; and Patricia Sanders, 1716 Edwardsville road.

During the summer, each Guide sent personal letters to "his" students, describing campus life, suggesting what to wear and the like.

Guides will greet new students as they arrive on the campus and will help them through registration procedures and take them on tours of the campus.

This year's training began last spring, with a meeting for all Guides. They will attend a two-day workshop to receive a final briefing in preparation for New Student Week Sept. 8-15.

Guides will keep in close touch with their students during the year and will be the first communication link with the student services staff. When Guides do not have answers they will refer the freshmen to appropriate university offices.

Women's Army Career Opportunities Listed

More than 40% of American women are now employed outside the home, according to recent estimates by the Department of Labor. This figure is expected to rise even more dramatically within the next few years.

As more and more women enter the labor force, however, the demand for skilled women workers is increasing. Recognizing this fact, young women enrolling from high school often choose to continue their education — by attendance at college, business school, trade school, or some other institution.

This advanced education is often costly, and many young ladies who would like to continue their education are financially unable to do so. A solution is available through the free job training available to qualified young ladies enrolling in the Women's Army Corps. It was pointed out here this week.

Courses range in length from four to 31 weeks, and include subjects as stenography, data processing, journalism, social work, physical therapy, photography, map-making, aircraft drafting and working procedures in a dental laboratory, pharmacy and medical laboratory.

Qualified young ladies receive a written guarantee of training in the field of their choice before enlisting, and have an opportunity to work in their chosen career field upon completing their school training.

Applicants should be high school graduates, between the ages of 18 and 34, in good health, and of high moral character.

More information on the Army's educational opportunities for young ladies meeting these basic qualifications is available from Army Recruiting Sgt. Morris L. Cook, 1340 Niedringhaus avenue, 876-5590.

Garry Leonard Abroad Navy Missile Cruiser

Navy Commander third-class Garry L. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Leonard, 2344 Kilarney drive, is serving aboard the light guided missile cruiser U.S.S. Providence.

The ship is currently the flagship for the commander of the U.S. First Fleet and its command post is San Diego, Calif. The Providence recently returned from duty in Vietnam, where it played a key role in countering the 1968 Tet offensive.

Army Ranger Program Opened to Enlistees

"Ranger" spells professional soldier and the men of the U.S. Army who wear the gold and black "Ranger" tab on the left shoulder of their uniform are just that. With a heritage which dates back to 1756, members of the Rangers have always led the way.

In the past, volunteers for this rugged training have always come from within the ranks of the Army. Now, according to Sgt. Morris L. Cook, local Army recruiter, qualified young men may enlist for the Rangers and initial assignment to the 75th Infantry Regiment.

The 75th traces its beginnings back to Merrill's Marauders of world war II fame.

Among the qualifications for enlistment in this elite group are excellent physical condition, the attainment of qualifying scores on the required Army mental tests, selection of advanced individual training in either infantry or as a radio operator, and to be a volunteer for Airborne training.

Once enlisted, the Ranger trainee must complete eight weeks of basic combat training, pass his initial swimming tests by swimming 50 meters, complete eight weeks of advanced individual training and attain qualifying scores on Army physical fitness tests.

Georgia, Florida Locations.

The trainee is then transferred to Fort Benning, Ga., for his initial Ranger training. First step is completion of the basic Airborne course, which costs three weeks and earns him the silver wings of an Army paratrooper. The Airborne training puts still more emphasis on his physical fitness in preparation for the nine-week Ranger course.

The Ranger course is divided into three phases. The first phase is conducted at Fort Benning and teaches the student Ranger tactics and techniques along with a heavy emphasis on physical conditioning.

Phase two is conducted in mountainous terrain near Dahlonega, Ga., and is built around mountaineering techniques used in combat operations.

The third and final phase of the Ranger course is conducted in jungle-like terrain near Eglin Air Force Base in Florida. This phase concentrates on continual tactical field exercises designed to test every skill the student has been taught under realistic conditions.

"The men who complete this rugged, demanding course are the best soldiers in the world," says Sgt. Cook. "The pressure is on all the time and they are expected to make the right decisions."

He has additional information on Ranger training and the new noncommissioned officer candidate course available at his office, 1340 Niedringhaus avenue, 876-5590.

New Concept of Vocational Teacher Training Attempted

Even as small businesses go nowadays, the life of Deco-Plaque, Inc., was a very short one.

It was organized this summer by 13 Southern Illinois University students at Carbondale and it was dissolved in less than two months. But the books showed a handsome return for stockholders, a complete sellout of its single production run, and a roster of thoroughly satisfied employees.

Deco-Plaque was the takeoff model for an entirely new kind of teacher training approach in the field of industrial education. The company's offices, production line, and marketing headquarters were actually the shops and classrooms of the SIU department of industrial education.

The whole effort—called "Enterprise"—was a true-to-life exercise in business management and output, what the department's chairman, Ronald Stadt, likes to call "the real world of work."

The first such "Enterprise" class under Stadt's new program consisted of senior and graduate level students who teach, or plan to teach, "shop" in junior high school. If Stadt has his way, the nickname will soon be extinct.

They dreamed up a business and a product, researched its market potential, organized and capitalized a company, designed and manufactured the product, and then sold it on the open market.

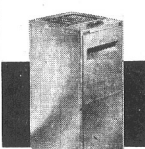

They operated with a president, a board of directors, lesser executives, market analysts, production line workers, salesmen, even stockboys—all themselves.

Since most of them bought stock in their own company they were more than casually interested in the firm's success. They showed that from the start, when they overruled their own instructor on a suggestion for the "Enterprise" project.

He wanted them to specialize in small motor repair work. They nixed that after a weak report from their market analysts.

Instead, they produced basswood and poplar plaques bearing symbols of the charred photograph of SIU's Old Main building, an historic landmark destroyed by fire early in June.

Deco-Plaque, Inc. turned out 400 of the plaques and sold the entire run to the Women's Auxiliary of Doctor's Memorial Hospital in Carbondale.

The Auxiliary in turn is selling them at retail in its hospital gift shop. Sales, reportedly, are brisk.

Capitalized at $144 ($1 per share of non-legal stock), Deco-Plaque grossed approximately $650. Individual stockholders realized profits ranging from $11.20 to $45.

The company got nothing from its stock, equipment was leased from SIU and material was purchased.

Registration at SIU, Carbondale, Sept. 19
All new students planning to enter Southern Illinois University at Carbondale this fall must complete registration on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19 and 20, or else wait until Sept. 26—missing three days of classes and paying a late fee.

To facilitate the process, on-campus residence halls will be opened to unregistered new students on Sept. 19. Friday registration will be limited to new freshmen only, while Saturday (Sept. 20) registration also will be open to unregistered transfer students.

The registrar's offices will be open for business all day Saturday.

The revised central registration system is designed to free the New Student Week orientation schedule of interruptions. In the past, new students could register throughout the week.

New student activities begin Sunday, Sept. 21. Wednesday, Sept. 24, will be the first full day of classes.

Advisement and registration Monday and Tuesday (Sept. 22-23) will be restricted to re-entering and continuing students from the spring or summer quarters.

Business Wednesday and Thursday (Sept. 24-25) will be limited to program changes and the final late registration session Friday (Sept. 26) will end at noon.

Degrees Awarded in ISU Summer Session

A total of 323 students completed requirements for bachelor's degrees with the close of the regular eight-week summer session at Illinois State University, Bloomington-Normal.

Included was Nancy Layman, 3305 Bradley avenue, Bachelor of Science degree. The total brings to more than 2400 the number of degrees granted by Illinois State this year. There is no summer commencement ceremony; students eligible for degrees in August had the option of participating in the June graduation program if they desired.

With still more degrees to be awarded at the close of the post-graduate session now in progress, Illinois State has more degree recipients than it had students less than 20 years ago. An enrollment then of about 2000 will have risen to approximately 15,000 this fall.

Second Class This Fall
This fall, another "Enterprise" class will be formed with a different cast of workers and a different product. They may come in a winner, like Deco-Plaque, or they may flop.

The idea? It's part of a sharply different concept of industrial education than the one familiar to generations of junior and senior high school youth, to whom such classes have been little different from the "manual training" shops of the lower grades.

The concept has been refined by Stadt, who preaches it vigorously and hopes SIU's graduates will pioneer it when they go out to teach.

"Traditional 'shop' courses and the like," says Stadt, "give youngsters almost no preparation for the real thing, the realities of productive society."

"The approach we're fostering (the entire program is called 'Enterprise: Man and Technology') will, through actual experience, give students a much better idea of what to expect in the world of work. It will encourage them to 'plug in' to productive society."

Man's Role in Technology
"We aren't interested in taking future teachers and showing them how to make book-ends or door-knockers or how to read blueprints, although that is a part of it. We're concerned with revealing man's role in technology, showing the ways in which technology is applied in modern society."

"This one or similar programs are absolutely necessary to making education more relevant to today's world."

Except for the "president," Deco-Plaque personnel swapped roles throughout the summer class so as to get an understanding of how each position affected the enterprise as a whole.

At the course windup, the students had to develop another "Enterprise" idea suitable for a junior high class. They ranged from "Helldiver, Inc.," a firm that would produce fly-rod fish lures, to "Branch Wood, Inc.," a candlestick holder outfit.

Stadt says there's a simple, fundamental difference between his "Enterprise: Man and Technology" curriculum and the more common, traditional approach to occupational education.

"One focuses on the world of play—the other on the world of work."

Monticello Will Begin 135th Academic Year

Monticello College will begin its 135th academic year on Sept. 15 with its freshmen class enrollment up 20% over last year, according to Robert M. Martin, college admissions director.

Monticello, a two-year liberal arts college for women, is one of the few St. Louis area colleges which will not have an increased tuition fee this year. Approximately 400 young women are expected to enroll for the same tuition fee that has been in effect since 1966.

Thirty states and four foreign countries will be represented by the student body. Foreign students enrolling will be from Colombia, South America; Mexico City, Mexico; Naha, Okinawa; and Ontario, Canada.

Senior students will return to school Sept. 9 to help with orientation activities for the incoming freshmen, which will include setting up "greeting" stations at St. Louis Municipal Airport and at campus entrances for freshmen's arrival on Sept. 10.

A faculty conference and registration workshop will take place Sept. 5 and 9. Student registration has been set for Sept. 12 for seniors and Sept. 13 for freshmen.

Opening convocation will be held Sunday, Sept. 14, with the main address being given by Dr. G. E. Myers, president of Monticello.

New Loan Program to Aid College Students

From 10,000 to 15,000 Illinois college students may be assisted through a new federal guarantee loan program, it was announced by Gov. Ogilvie.

The loans, from private sources, will be guaranteed at 80% by the federal office of education and 20% by the state. Before the new program, Illinois had to guarantee all loans, putting $1 into a reserve fund for every $10 lent to students.

Dr. Lee Noel, head of the state scholarship commission's loan program, estimated that

Apply by Nov. 2 For Coast Guard Academy Tests

Cong. Melvin Price announced today that the annual competition for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will commence with the Dec. 6, 1969, administration of the College Examination Board Tests. These examinations will be given in over 3000 test centers.

Arrangements to take the CEEB examination should be made by the applicant through his school prior to Nov. 2. Completed Coast Guard application forms must be received at the Academy by Dec. 15, 1969.

Cong. Price emphasized the opportunity offered qualified young men who choose this four-year course, which leads to a commission as a career officer in America's oldest continuous seagoing armed service—and a bachelor of science degree.

"Appointments are made on a competitive basis; there are no separate quotas for states or districts and no special categories," Price said.

"I urge all qualified young men who are interested in this worthwhile profession to write for details and application at once to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. 06320."

A candidate for the next examination for the Coast Guard Academy must be single and a citizen of the United States, must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1970, and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30, 1970, are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time.

All applicants must have three units of English; three in mathematics, including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry; and seven additional units in mathematics, English, science, social studies or foreign language by graduation. They must fulfill the basic physical and moral requirements.

50,000 students could qualify for loans this year.

Since the loan program began in 1966, 750 banks have joined, Noel said. Also involved are 75 savings and loan institutions and 75 credit unions.

They are allowed to charge eight percent interest on the loans. Students qualifying for the loans are allowed to borrow $1000 the first year and $1500 a year after that to a total of $3000.

State Pilot Program To Microfilm Records

A pilot program of microfilming records of circuit court clerks reported by the Illinois Supreme Court has received final approval with Governor Ogilvie's signing of a bill appropriating $50,000 to start the project in Jefferson and Logan counties, Secretary of State Paul Powell has announced.

"Exempts them from my office will be available to help plan and do the groundwork for the Supreme Court to facilitate this microfilming pilot project in Jefferson and Logan counties," Powell said.

"If this test program proves successful, and we believe it will, considerable savings of state funds could be effected for all state departments by paying a nominal fee for the use of the established system of microfilming now existing in the office of Secretary of State."

Powell said the Archives Division of his office is already busy to programming and microfilming records for retention, for divisions of his office for all state departments by paying a nominal fee for the use of the established system of microfilming now existing in the office of Secretary of State.

"All of this could be avoided in the future by utilization of our facilities, which will not only insure preservation but will eliminate the many files, drawers and cabinets now being used to house these voluminous records."

It's Happening in Southern Illinois

SIU Bringing College Courses to Prisoners

By PETE BROWN
(SIU News Service)

When 40-year-old Menard Penitentiary inmate Clinton Thompson came up for parole last March, he asked the board to pass him by for the time being.

Why would a guy in the last lap of a 10-year sentence decline the chance to get out? Because he didn't want to interrupt his college education in the middle of the term. Thompson sweated it out until his July discharge so he could launch a fulltime college career on the outside with the fall term, his transcript intact.

He is just one of hundreds of Menard prisoners who have, since 1966 crinkled books instead of rocks in one of the most enlightened university extension programs anywhere.

Southern Illinois University's longstanding pledge to "take the university to the people" attained its longest reach when SIU sent faculty members behind the walls of Menard.

They'd been there before that, and art courses, cooking classes, and such, but not for college credit. Then, in 1966, SIU sent veteran newspaper and editor Charles Clayton of its journalism department into the prison to do a couple of courses worth degree points.

From that beginning a full-range of extension classes that now enroll upwards of 90 inmates at any time in the school year.

Thirty of them are in a select group called the "College Gang," brainstormed by Thomas Cassidy, an SIU English instructor who has been a major force in the program.

Most Menard collegians have to plug away at their regular school assignments, getting time to attend classes when they are held.

But the Gang is a prestige group of fulltime students, winnowed from applicants by a series of tests and interviews. They follow a course-by-course, quarter-by-quarter study routine just like Joe College on the outside, with no other prison work demands.

Four-Year Program Considered

As of now, the inmates can take up to 96 quarter hours of credit in extension, but the limit will be lifted and the time may not be far off when a resident program is effected for the prison. That would mean a qualified inmate could complete a whole four year degree sequence behind the walls.

What's been the payoff?

Robert Dreher, a specialist in SIU's Study for the Center of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, says Menard's "College Gang" alumni have done "a terrific job" on the outside—both in terms of "free community adjustment" and performance on the college campus.

Prison parole admissions at SIU are running about 20 a year now. Dreher says the majority are more mature, more "settled down," slightly above the student academic average.

The prison return rate is "way below that for the overall parole population."

One of the first student paroled came to campus armed with his prison extension credits, jumped into a tough major, won a National Science Foundation award, and financed his way to a degree by working in a local scientific instruments plant. He then won a part-time teaching assistantship.

Another completed a master's

FOUR-QUARTER SCHOOL YEAR MAY BE AN ANSWER

To the Editor:

The principal argument I have been hearing regarding higher salaries for teachers has been that they only work for one month a year—that what they have been offered is darn good for that, and other people wish they had three months' vacation a year.

This is partly true, but it isn't the whole picture. To begin with, consider that a college degree is a prerequisite to becoming a teacher. This means four years of time, effort and money going out instead of coming in—and the amount of money going in is getting higher every year.

If, after this, you get a job paying more than if you hadn't gone to college, why go? Look how much about you would be financially if you just started to work instead.

If you made $10,000 a year, that would be $16,000. So the college graduate is at least that much behind, and even counting college expenses.

Even so, there are compensating advantages for women in my position.

Because of having school age children, being able to work when my children are in school is very valuable to me.

I have a husband, so my family doesn't have to rely solely on my income. Therefore, I don't really need as much as many others do.

If the schools were staffed entirely by people in my position, the salary offered by the board would be adequate. However, you couldn't find enough people like this to completely staff the schools.

And even if you could, would you want to? Don't you think it is valuable for children to have men as well as women teachers?

That brings us back to finance again. You'll have to admit the head of a family needs more.

What about that lovely three-month vacation? This is a definite disadvantage. When the men teachers do you know that take a three-month vacation?

Aren't they really just looking for jobs for the summer, because on a teacher's salary they can't afford not to work those three months?

How would you like to have to scrounge around looking for summer job opportunities that make ends meet, competing with the school kids for the available positions?

Is it important to you that your children have really good teachers? How many men would have been better than the teachers we have? Just couldn't afford this profession?

How many more in the future will choose other lines of work for the same reason, if we don't pay enough to attract them?

How many of the ones we now have may we lose to a more lucrative business?

I know most of you have financial problems, too, and want to get the most you can for your money.

The only way that I can see that we could give proper consideration to every teacher eventually adopt a four-quarter school year like SIU.

There would be disadvantages, but aren't there some to practically everything?

There would also be advantages you would have to decide which outweigh the others.

Teachers who need or want to work all year could work three quarters the same length of time they work now.

We wouldn't need a new high school if only three quarters of the total enrollment were there at all times, and that would be an enormous saving, not even mentioning the junior highs and grade schools.

Other people may have better ideas for solving the problem. If so, let's hear from you.

In the meantime, do you think it's time to ask only teachers who are dedicated? This is what I hear: We shouldn't be interested in money.

Aren't doctors supposed to be dedicated, too? You don't expect them to be poor because of it.

We need the whole community to be dedicated to making the schools for our children the very best possible.

TEACHERS SHOULD WORK WHILE NEGOTIATING

To the Editor:

I would like to ask a few questions concerning the teachers' strike.

The state of Illinois has a law which makes striking illegal. However, Mr. Page has said that rule which makes a provision for a strike. Your editorial explained this very well.

However, how can one man over-ride a law? The news reported that there were 200 teachers attending the meeting last Tuesday and 100 pickets. Yet the schools were closed. Where were the other 400 union teachers?

If they would not picket, would they have shown up in the classroom? If not, the schools had been allowed to open?

One of the area newspapers had an editorial condemning the teachers for being out because they should be good examples. This is true, but what about all the other people in this area who have been on strike? Are they parents? Shouldn't they set good examples?

When they cause destruction, threaten lives, and in some cases even kill, are they to be excused because they are teachers? Why should teachers and ministers be expected to live on a different standard than the rest of the community?

While the papers condemn the teachers on one page, they use the same teachers on another page.

Reporters and television cameras are present. Can't the union members and picket lines, but I do not recall any pictures or interviews with teachers who reported to work. I know that the news about people who obey the laws would not sell newspapers, but it would be refreshing to hear from both sides.

This could be endless, but I'll close with this: Can't intelligent, mature adults talk over their differences and work at the same time?

STRIKERS JEOPARDIZE PLANNING OF SENIORS

To the Editor:

Through the long, hot summer many people have aired their views on the teachers' strike. I, too, feel I have something to say about the situation.

Many students couldn't care less when school starts because they have the rest of next summer to spend in school. However, as a member of the class of May 1970, I am very concerned.

First of all, I wish to let everyone know that I am an honor student and a future teacher.

At least hopefully a future teacher; for, you see, if the teachers stay out too long, the subject of degeneracy is pursued any further in the campus paper, the university ought to take steps to restore it as a vehicle for dissemination of honest, common sense and study opportunities. A few staff changes also might be helpful.

An Open Letter To the General Public (Regarding the Sale of Your Home)

WHO WILL YOU CHOOSE "TODAY" TO SELL YOUR HOME "TOMORROW"?

THE MOST IMPORTANT TRANSACTION OF YOUR LIFE!
Will you be a "RIVERBOAT GAMBLER" (taken from a quote by Chicago Title Co.) and choose a part-time real estate operator, who thinks so little of your home that he works at another job to make a living. Or a part time greenhorn salesman with little or no professional knowledge. Of course he may be honest, but remember this, you also need a license to drive a truck, sell hot dogs, or put on a medicine show.

Perhaps you will choose one of the "FAST BOY BOYS," (an expression taken from one better letter of complaint). Yes the "FAST BOY BOYS" will lead you thru green pastures, charm you with sweet smiles and big pats on the back. Yes, life will be one big bowl of cherries until you come to the closing of your deal. In fact you may wind up with a big paper profit (paper that is) but very little money, as one letter of complaint stated. When you ask what happened to all the goodies I was promised? Answer, "GONE WITH THE WIND."

Or finally you will choose NOT to take "POT LUCK" (after all its your money and you are entitled to the best) and select a "REALTOR." For more than 50 years "REALTORS" have earned a proud reputation, as the finest Real Estate Brokers in the land. They are recognized for their professional knowhow, financial stability, integrity, and high standards of conduct, as absolute "TOPPS," in their profession. And as such have elevated the reputation of Real Estate to a very high level of respect and trust with the general public.

This very fact has created problems for so many good people who have written in to complain, "well he was a real estate man, so I thought he was O.K."

We respectfully submit again that just any real estate operator is NOT a "REALTOR" and a "REALTOR" is NOT just any real estate operator.

NOTE: A "REALTOR" always gives good service. He does NOT "play games" with you and your home. He is devoted to serving you and you alone. He has no other job to distract him, because REAL ESTATE is his business and his life.

'Win Back' Classes Planned This Fall

The "Win Back" program for those adults interested in earning high school diplomas will again be offered this fall at Granite City high school, pending the start of the school term. The exact "Win Back" starting date is indefinite.

Enrollment requirements are that a person be at least 18 years of age and in a class that has graduated; a resident of the Granite City community unit school district; and have attended at least one year in a recognized high school.

If the attendance was at GCHS, credits should be evaluated before enrolling. If a person is now a resident but attended another high school, he must have a transcript sent to the principal of GCHS prior to counseling.

Classes generally will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. If a person is enrolled for one course, he will attend one night; two courses, two nights. A maximum of four classes can be taken, requiring attendance four nights a week. A Driver Education program is also being offered to both graduates and non-graduates, including those between 16 and 21 years of age.

The evening school for high school credit will offer the classroom phase of driver education. The objective of the course is to prepare students to take the behind-the-wheel phase of driver education.

School Addition Gives Boost to Building Permits

Permits to construct a four-room addition to Coolidge junior high school at a cost of $111,000 and for remodeling and repairs to the First Granite City Savings & Loan Association at a cost of $58,000 topped new construction in Granite City during August. Forty permits listed values of $242,941.

The Moore Construction Co. is the contractor and Gabriel & Dulgeroff is the architect for both projects.

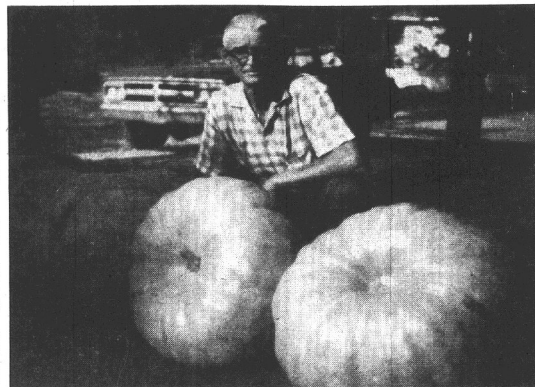

The total was more than in August of last year when 40 permits were valued at $211,916, but was under the July level, when 43 permits had values of $375,015.

Other permits during the last week of August were obtained by:

Bill Gardner, 2766 Nameoki drive, a room addition, $10,000; N. T. Fox, 2650 Edwards street, a carport, $380; Ola Cottrell, 2905 Pershing blvd., repair garage, $500; Roy Poulos, 2213 Benton street, Remodeling, $800; Holsinger Real Estate agency, repair house at 3142 Nameoki road, $100.

Masonic Temple, 20th street and Cleveland blvd., repairs, $2000; Michel's Jewelry store, 1842 State street, repairs, $1000; James Slattery, 3316 Colgate place, build a patio, $600; A. W. Carpenter, 2234 State street, roofing, $1300.
